CASTLE A SUICIDE

President of Union Trust Company Takes Own Life in New York.

USED RAZOR TO KILL HIMSELF

Castle Was Man of Wide Business Interests, Well Known in Financial World—Committed Suicide at Union Hotel.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 13.—John W. Castle, president of the Union Trust Company, and a director of other well known corporations committed suicide today by cutting his throat at the Grand Union Hotel.

Mr. Castle had large interests in Texas and was at one time president of the Hibernia Trust Company, of New Orleans.

Besides being president of the Union Trust Company Mr. Castles was a director of the Central Park North and East River Railroad Company, the Central of Georgia Railway Company, the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, the Hanover National Bank, of this city; the Maryland Trust Company of Baltimore and the Morristown (N. J.) Trust Company.

He was United States Trustee for the Northern Assurance Company, limited of London.

Was Prominent in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Sept. 13.—John W. Castles, who committed suicide in New York today was for a number of years one of the most prominent citizens both in a business and social way in this city. He came to New Orleans from Texas about 12 years ago to engage in the wholesale grocery business. For some time he was president of the Southern National Bank of this city, which was later absorbed by the Hibernian National Bank. About six years ago Mr. Castle removed to New York to become president of the Guaranty Trust Company.

BOLD ROBBERY IN BALTIMORE.

Jeweler Robbed of Valuables, Watches and Money.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Baltimore, Sept. 13.—Shortly before noon today while traffic on Gay street was heaviest and while hundreds of people were passing his store, S. Ruman, a jeweler at 156 North Gay street, says that he was gagged and bound in a rocking chair in a partitioned back room while two robers deliberately went over his stock and selected rings valued at $200, five watches valued in all at $50, and $30 in cash, which, he says, they took from the money drawer.

The men were in the store about 15 minutes, Ruman says, and then left by the back door, telling him if he made an outcry they would return and kill him.

TRIPPLE TRAGEDY IN ALABAMA

White Woman Killed and Two Negroes Pay Forfeit.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Demopolis, Ala., Sept. 13.—News of the killing of two negroes, following the slaying of a white woman, was received today from Bellamy, a lumber camp 20 miles west of here. Two negroes Robert Gully and John Holly on Sunday night entered the home of a man named Gray. Mrs. Gray was awakened and when she failed to heed the order to stop screaming, was shot and killed by Gully.

Gray brained the negro with an axe but not before Gully had shot him in the leg.

Holly was captured this morning and made quick work of by a posse of Gray's friends.

TAFT LEAVES BEVERLY TODAY

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 13.—President Taft gave up his golf game and all official business today and devoted himself to preparing himself for the long Western trip which will have its beginning when he motors into Boston tomorrow afternoon to attend the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Taft will accompany her husband on the 17-mile journey into Boston.

It is not Mrs. Taft's intention to remain in Beverly until November 12th.

Port Eads, La., Sept. 13.—One torpedo boat destroyer and three torpedo boats from Hampton Roads to St. Louis entered the mouth of the Mississippi river late this afternoon and proceeded on their way to New Orleans. This flotilla under command of Lieut. Mitchell will serve as an escort to the steamer Mississippi on its trip down the river from St. Louis with President Taft, the latter part of October. The flotilla comprises the topedo boat destroyer MacDonough and the torpedo boats Thornton, Tingey and Wilkes.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Deprecating the suggestion that President Taft's party, which will inspect New Orleans harbor on October 30th next "must make the trip under a foreign flag," acting Secretary of Commerce and Labor McHarg has advised the collector of customs of that port that efforts will be made to secure American vessels for the President's inspection of New Orleans harbor and the lower Mississippi.

Mr. McHarg says in his letter dated today: "The Department prefers not to answer the legal question until efforts have been made to which there is ample time to secure American vessels for the purpose. It is reluctant to believe that at our principal gulf port American shipping has so dwindled that to enable the President of the United States and a relatively small body of representative Americans to spend a few hours on the greatest American river with a view of its improvement, they must make the trip under a foreign flag."

SUTTON'S BODY EXHUMED.

Autopsy Held Over Remains—Believes He Was Shot.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Sept. 13.—When the body of Lieut. James N. Sutton, Jr., the young marine officer who met his death about two years ago at Annapolis was exhumed at Arlington cemetery this afternoon, an autopsy performed by physicians representing the Navy Department and young Sutton's mother disclosed the fact that no bones were broken, although a contusion was found over the right eye.

It had been Mrs. Sutton's contention that her son's arm had been broken in the fight which preceeded his death, and that this being the case, the shot which ended his life could not have been self inflicted.

Dr. George Tully Vaughn, of this city, who represented Mrs. Sutton at the autopsy, said tonight that the bullet wound which caused his death was trenched above the right ear and was clean cut. There was no indication that the hair and scalp had been burned by powder. Surgeon Spear, who represented the Navy Department, declined to make a statement tonight saying that he intended to make a report direct to the Navy Department.

Attorney VanDyke, associate counsel for Mrs. Sutton, said tonight that he was convinced that the shot had been fired at least five feet from the officer's head and that the wound showed conclusively that it was a physical impossibility for Sutton to have fired the shot.

ALARMING SPREAD OF PELLAGRA

One Thousand Cases of Disease in This State—Autopsy Upon Victom.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Durham, N. C., Sept. 13.—Pellagra is spreading in this State at an alarming rate. The ninth death in this locality occurred here tonight, two new cases were discovered today, and one of the two survivors of the 11 originally afflicted will die within a week, in all probability.

There are said to be 1,000 cases of the disease in North Carolina at the present time and but one county, Onslow, it is declared is without a patient.

The first autopsy upon a pellagra victim in North Carolina was performed tonight on George Mebane a large negro who had just died, violently insane. Though the germ was found, no other trace of the disease was discovered. The heart and other organs were in perfect condition. Prior to the negro's death, Guinea pigs were inoculate with his blood. They have shown no signs of the disease yet.

Late tonight the physicians who conducted the autopsy, headed by the pathologist of Trinity college, declared themselves as completely mystified as to the origin of the disease. All parts of the dead man were put in preservative for further examination.

Nearly 2,000 persons most of them employes in the dead man's various enterprises, attended the funeral of Colonel Michael J. O'Brien, president of the Southern Express Company in New York at St. Patrick's cathedral yesterday.

HARRIMAN POLICY

Magnate's Plans to be Continued on His Lines.

JUDGE LOVETT HIS SUCCESSOR

Southern Man Now at Head of World's Greatest Railway System—Began Career as $40 a Month Clerk in Texas.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 13.—The continuance of the Harriman policies in the management of the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific and their chain of allied railroads, was made certain today, temporarily at least, when Robert S. Lovett, E. H. Harriman's personal counsel and close friend, was elected to succeed Mr. Harriman at the head of the executive committee of the Union Pacific Railroad. To strengthen further the dominance of the "Harriman idea," Jacob H. Schiff and William Rockefeller—both heavily interester in the Harriman enterprises—were elected directors in place of Mr. Harriman and the late H. H. Rogers and also were chosen to places on the executive committee.

The Union Pacific still remains without a president, as Mr. Harriman occupied this position also. It is understood, however, that an operating man—probably L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson, will be elected for the place at the annual meeting of stockholders to be held on October 12.

The office which Judge Lovett assumed today is the most important in the management and financial supervision of the Union Pacific.

The directors of the Southern Pacific will meet tomorrow. It is taken for granted that their action is fully forecasted by today's meeting and that Judge Lovett will be seated as chairman of that executive committee also in Mr. Harriman's place, with Jacob H. Schoff or some other partner in the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., at his right hand as director and member of the executive committee.

As it stands today the executive committee remains in the parlance of the street, a "Kuhn, Loeb-Standard Oil Board," for besides Judge Lovett Jacob H. Schiff and William Rockefeller, the members are H. C. Frick, of Pittsburg; Marvin Hughitt, president of the Chicago and Northwestern, and Frank A. Vanderlip, of the National City Bank of New York.

The failure of the Morgan interest to gain a place on the re-constructed board was a surprise to Wall street where last week's rumors had been given general credence. Judge Lovett, who in view of his new office becomes for the moment one of the most prominent railroad men in the public eye came to New York city in 1906. Born in Texas 49 years ago, he entered the railroad buisness while a boy as a $40 a month freight clerk for the Houston, East and West Texas Railroad, at Houston. While serving as a freight clerk, he studied law at night and eventually became a country-counsel for the railroad, a district counsel and then general counsel. His next step was at Memphis in a firm which represented the Southern Pacific. He became president of this system under Mr. Harriman and then was made general counsel. Three years ago Mr. Harriman brought him to this city.

Harriman's Body at Rest.

Arden, N. Y., Sept. 12.—Through the quiet aisle of the Ramapo woods, the body of Edward H. Harriman was carried today frome the great hous he never lived to see finished and laid in its last resting place on the Arden hillside. The rulers from Wall Street came from New York to pay their last tribute, but the most prominent part in the ceremonies was taken by the men who knew him best—a country squire, master of the great estate, which covers 43,000 acres of hill and valley in this, the most rugged part of Orange county; his general superintendent, his master carpenter, his master mason, and the managers and assistant managers of his dairies, his farms and his trotting stables were the men who bore his coffin and the services were led by his own chaplain.

PEARY EXPEDITION

PEARY AND ESKIMO ONLY ONES

Others Left One March in Rear—Pole Seemed to be Frozen Sea of Unknown Depth—Prof. Marvin Lost—Hunt.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Battle Harbor, Labrador, Sept. 13.—From members of the Peary Arctic expedition on board the steamer Roosevelt a number of details of the dash to the Pole have been gleaned. These details are as follows:

The only men to reach the Pole were Commander Peary and one Eskimo, Eging Wah by name. The other white members of the various parties that left Cape Columbia were sent back, one by one, as Peary drew nearer daily to his objective. Mathew Henson, the negro, and three Eskimos, the only other members of the reduced party that made the final dash, were left one march south of the Pole.

Captain Robert A. Bartlett and Geo. Borup started February 27th from Cape Columbia with a number of Eskimos and dogs on the march across the ice, heading north. On March 1st Commander Peary left Cape Columbia with his party consisting of seven white men, 17 Eskimos and 136 dogs. On March 4th Peary came up with Bartlett, who had pitched his camp at the side of a lead of water which it was impossible to cross. The combined parties had to wait until March 11th, seven days, before further progress was possible. The sun was seen for the first time March 5th, and a short way from the 84th parallel. The supply of alcohol was running short, and Borup returned to Cape Columbia for a fresh stock. March 14 Borup overtook Peary again and brought a supply of oil and alcohol. The division under Prof. Ross G. Marvin joined Peary the same day. At this point Prof. Donald B. McMillan was sent back, his feet having been badly frozen. Borup returned to land from 85:23 with two Eskimos.

The party now consisted of 12 men, 10 sledges and 85 dogs. Bartlett was still beating out the trail two days ahead of Peary. Marvin took observations at 85:48 and then started on his return march.

On the next march Bartlett made a record trip, covering 20 miles. This brought him to 85:38. The party now consisted of Peary, Bartlett, Mathew Henson, the negro man, who has been Peary's personal assistant on so many of his expeditions, the Eskimos, seven sledges and 60 dogs, and the journey northward was resumed. The ice was perfectly level as far as the eye could see. Bartlett took the observation on the 88th parallel, on April 2nd, and then reluctantly returned, leaving Peary, Henson and three Eskimos with provisions for 40 days to make the final dash to the Pole.

Thus reduced, the party started on the morning of April 3rd. The men walked that day for ten hours and made 20 miles. Then they slept near the 89th parallel. While crossing a stretch of young ice 300 yards wide the sledge broke through. It was saved, but two of the Eskimos had narrow escapes from drowning. The ice was still good, and the dogs were in great shape. They made as high as 25 miles a day. The next observation was made at 88:25. The next two marches were made in a dense fog. The sun was sighted on the third march and an observation showed 89:57.

The Pole was reached April 6th and a series of observations were taken at 90. Peary deposited his records and hoisted the American flag. The temperature was 32 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit. The Pole appeared as a frozen sea. Peary tried to take a sounding but got no bottom at 1,500 fathoms.

Peary stayed at the Pole for 34 hours and then started on his return journey the afternoon of April 7. On the return the marches were continuous and Peary and the Eskimos suffered greatly from fatigue. They had their first sleep at the end of the eighth march from the Pole, in the igloos left by Bartlett.

Here there was a violent snowstorm. On April 23rd, the party reached the vertical edge of the land ice west of Cape Columbia. The Eskimos were delighted to reach land and the party slept for two days. They repaired their sledges, rested the dogs and resuming the journey, reached the Roosevelt April 27th.

Marvin left Peary on the way up on Friday, March 26th, to return to the ship. He had with him two Eskimos and 17 dogs. The story of the professor's death was obtained from one of the Eskimos. April 10th Marvin was 45 miles from Cape Columbia. He started out that morning, walking ahead. The Eskimos were delayed in packing the sledges, a fact that permitted Marvin to get a good start on them. When the Eskimos arrived at an open lead they noticed that the ice was broken about 25 yards out, and they saw what looked like a man's body floating in the center of the lead. Owing to the treacherous condition of the ice, the Eskimos could not venture out.

They returned to the Roosevelt and reported. Captain Bartlett then went back to the point they designated and recovered Prof. Marvin's spare boots, clothing and personal belongings which were still on the ice where the Eskimos had left them. The super-[illegible] of their [illegible] prevented the natives from bringing the dead man's effects with them. Prof. Marvin's records and observations were saved.

Peary's Ship Safe.

Battle Harbor, Labrador, Sept. 13.—The Associated Press tug Douglas H. Thomas arrived this afternoon. Commander Peary's steamer Roosevelt was found to be in good condition and will leave Battle Harbor on Thursday or Friday for North Sydney. From that port the Roosevelt will proceed to New York and if it is possible she will take part in the naval parade at the Hudson-Fulton celebration.

NORTH CAROLINA MICA MINES

Huge Deal in Lands and Valuable Property Along Clinchfield Railroad—Property Worth Many Thousands.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Statesville, N. C., Sept. 13—Through Attorney R. H. McNeill, of Washington, it was announced here today that a deal had just been closed in Mitchell county whereby about 20 mica mines and some 2,000 acres of land had been sold. The deal grew out of a damage suit for $50,000 by Mrs. Virginia P. Cibotti, of Washington, against Patrick H. Abernethy, of Asheville. The sale brings the suit which was filed in the United States Circuit Court here, to a conclusion. The Carolina, Clinchfield & Ohio Railroad now runs within one to six miles of the mines. The purchasers of the property are Mrs. V. P. Cibotti and Mrs. E. B. Thompson, of Washington, D. C.

BANKERS IN CHICAGO TODAY.

American Association Convenes in Annual Session—All Day Conference.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Out of a multiplicity of conferences today preliminary to the convening of the 35th annual convention of the American Bankers' Association tomorrow one fact stands out supreme in the opinion of the bankers and that is "the bill of lading question." That this will soon be settled, is the opinion of the 100 and more bankers, carriers and shippers' representatives who held an all-day conference on the subject.

The cry of the bankers has long been for a bill of lading which would make the carrier issuing it responsible that it would be a safe negotiating instrument.

The railroad representatives did not oppose the resolutions and this was taken by the bankers to indicate a closer degree of harmony than has prevailed, since heretofore the carriers' liability has been the principal bone of contention.

The annual convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State banks was held today. Pierre Jay, president of the association, delivered his annual address.

Everything in the house was saved but a cook stove which Mrs. Freeman was cooking on at the time the fire was discovered. The house was completely destroyed but the loss is covered with insurance

AUTO ACCIDENT AT COLUMBUS

Alexander has a broken finger, the result of an automobile accident early today on the Glade road when the big machine in which they and two ladies were seated, plunged to the bottom of a 16 foot ravine on a sharp curve, turning turtle. POSTAL OFFICIALS

Number From Washington to Attend Postmasters' Convention.

DAY'S AFFAIRS IN RALEIGH

Suit in Equity Dismissed by Judge Connor—Appeal in Oil Case—Remains of Mr. Perkins Interred Yesterday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 13.—Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock today notified President Willis G. Briggs, of the Association of North Carolina Postmasters, that the department at Washington will be represented at the annual session of the North Carolina Association in Raleigh September 29th and 30th, by Assistant Postmaster General P. D. DeGraw; Acting Chief Postoffice Inspector. Theo. Ingalls; Superintendent of City Delivery B. H. Davis and Superintendent of Registered Mails R. P. Allen.

Postmaster Briggs is also informed that A. K. Hoag, New York, president of the National League of Postmasters of the Fourth Class Offices, will attend. All these distinguished postal authorities will take an active part in the programme. There is every assurance that the session will be the most profitable in the history of the association. The State League of Postmasters of the Fourth Class offices will also meet here at the same time and it is probable that 300 or 400 postmasters will be here. The officers of the North Carolina Association are President, Willis G. Briggs, Raleigh; Secretary-Treasurer, J. R. Joyce, Reidsville; vice presidents, C. A. Reynolds, Winston-Salem; D. C. Pearson, Morganton; W. E. Snow, High Point; J. O. Fitzgerald, Pelham.

Judge Connor, of the United States Court, has made an order dismissing the suit in equity of Andrew Brown by E. P. Aydlett on the ground that an investigation of the case discloses no equity involved. This is the suit in which the plaintiff asked for damages from Mr. Aydlett on the ground that in certain big timber litigation, especially in Dare county, Mr. Aydlett had received fees as counsel from both sides in suits in which Brown was a litigant.

The offices of the Southern Express Co. here were draped in mourning today on account of the death of President O'Brien, of the Southern Express Co.

The remains of Mr. J. Val Perkins arrived from Asheville this afternoon at 6:30 o'clock and were carried at once to the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Florence P. Tucker, on Hillsboro street, there to remain until 12:30 this afternoon when the funeral was conducted from Christ Episcopal church by Rev. Milton A. Barber, the rector. Mr. Perkins died in Asheville Saturday morning after a lingering illness from tuberculosis. He went to Asheville from Raleigh several months ago in the hope of staying the ravages of this dread disease. He was with the firm of Cross & Linehan, gentlemen's furnishers, when his health gave way. The pallbearers this afternoon were J. B. Pearce, R. L. Horton, Frank King, Harvey Johnson, Jerome Rosenthal, Burke Little, Dr. Hubert Royster, Dr. Joel Whitaker.

Formal notice of appeal was filed with Judge Connor, of the United States Court, here today in the case of Red C. Oil Manufacturing Co. vs. State Board of Agriculture in which Judge Connor recently dissolved the temporary restraining order by United States Circuit Judge Pritchard against the enforcement of the illuminating Oil Inspection Act of the last Legislature. The appeal bond was made to cover the cost of the litigation only since the act will be in full force throughout the State pending the determination of the case which will go direct to the Supreme Court at Washington. Ex-Governor Aycock and ex-Judge R. W. Winston are counsel for the Oil Company, which is really suing in behalf of all the independent companies.

SHOOTING IN WILSON COUNTY.

Freeman Williams and Miss Minnie Lucas Victims—Shot.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Sept. 13.—A serious shooting in which Mr. Freeman Williams and Miss Minnie Lucas were painfully wounded occurred at Black Creek, this county, Sunday night, the news of which was communicated to Sheriff Sharpe by telephone today.

Mr. Williams and Miss Lucas were seated on the porch at the latter's home when some one who had crawled up behind a bush in front of them opened fire with a shotgun. The load of No. 8 bird shot sprinkled them both, but no serious consequences are feared as a result of the shooting.

In the telephone message to the sheriff a young Mr. Randall Baker was accused of the shooting, but he absolutely denies any connection with the crime and says that he can prove he was in Wilson when the affair occurred. He has not been arrested. The sheriff and deputies are making efforts to apprehend the guilty party.

THE BLUE AND THE GRAY.

The Confederate survivors of the Battle of Fort Fisher have returned from Utica, New York, where they were invited by the Federal survivors to participate in a reunion of the Blue and the Gray, beginning September 7th. That reunion is a thing of the past and it seems that the Confederates have merely come home on parole, as they were captured bag and baggage and heart at Utica by their "friends the enemy." They were "overpowered" by kindness and chained by the fetters of an unyielding hospitality.

The Southern soldiers and their lady friends and others who went to the reunion are voluble in their expression of appreciation of the kindly, generous and warm hospitality of the Northerners. They declare that words cannot express the deep and lasting sense of pleasure which the Utica reception gave them. The Federal veterans and their people left undone nothing that could be done for their comfort, entertainment and joy. The manner in which Utica dispenses hospitality indicates a people of the most warm hearted and generous character, and it distinctly stamps them as past-masters in the art of conceiving ways and means to make the welcome and entertainment of their visitors unrestrained and unremitting.

Mr. H. C. McQueen, president of the Murchison National Bank, one of Wilmington's most prominent citizens, and himself a Confederate survivor of Fort Fisher, expresses much in this terse remark which he made to The Star: "No one not there has any conception of the way those people received us." Mr. McQueen and all the others were deeply impressed with the fulsome attention which the newspapers gave the re-union and especially with the splendid sentiment which marked their editorial references to the occasion. This, which Mr. McQueen hands The Star, is an editorial from the Utica Press, of September 7th, and it is a fine expression of the sentiment which prevailed among the New York people who so lavishly and admirably entertained the North Carolinians:

"A notable reunion is that for which Uticans have been arranging, which begins in this city today. Away back in January, 1865, the Union and the Confederate forces fought at and for Fort Fisher. Gen. Grant sent land and ocean forces and after two days' bombarding and under the combined attack from land and sea Fort Fisher fell. The dead and wounded on each side numbered many hundred. Fort Fisher stands only about a score of miles away from Wilmington. One of the regiments famous hereabouts was the 117th, and that is the one which led the assault and planted the Stars and Stripes on the parapet of the fort. Gen. N. M. Curtis commanded the division and the late Col. F. X. Meyers the regiment. It was one of the famous and important battles of the Civil War and indeed it was one of the events which hastened the end of that unfortunate strife. Those who wore the blue and those who wore the gray fought bravely, each side sure that it was right. The issue was with the stronger and it was not long after the fall of Fort Fisher that Lee, as commander of the Confederate army, surrendered.

"It is more than four decades since the fight at Fort Fisher and in that time much has happened, and while the stirring events of that time have not been forgotten, time has touched their memory tenderly and those who fought on either side have come to be firm friends. The anger, the strife and the passion are no longer recalled and now they stand shoulder to shoulder and arm in arm, simply as good American citizens under a common flag. A little more than two years ago many of the survivors of the Union army that fought at Fort Fisher accepted the invitation of the Wilmington people and were very handsomely entertained there. Then it was determined that the survivors who fought on the Confederate side should come to Utica and see something of a prosperous, flourishing, hospitable Northern city. For some time plans and preparations have been under way for the reception. The people generally have taken an interest in it and to them all it is very gratifying that they are to have as their guests those who wore the gray as well as those who wore the blue in a notable encounter. Utica and Uticans extend a very hearty, cordial welcome to the visitors and will endeavor as best they may to make that fact felt and understood. An appropriate programme covering three days has been prepared for the entertainment of the Southerners. Our people are all very hearty and earnest about it and they extend to the visitors their very warmest welcome."

SOLDIERS IN WAR AND PEACE.

The Confederate survivors of the Battle of Fort Fisher, together with quite a number of Wilmington people, have returned from Utica, New York, where they attended the most notable reunion of veterans that the American Union has ever witnessed. It was a reunion of the Blue and the Gray. It was a fraternal intermingling of the veterans of the North and the veterans of the South who constituted the contending forces in the momentous struggle at Fort Fisher, January 15, 1865, when the Confederacy's last blockading port fell into the hands of the Federal forces.

The Battle of Fort Fisher is history. Of the men who fought on either side there and made that history, many went down to death in victory or defeat. Others who survived the terrific clash of battle have carried their wounds and scars till this good and glorious day when as American soldiers they can meet together as brothers.

With a destiny that is now identical the veterans of the Blue and the Gray cast aside the bitter memories of strife and outvie each other in the marvelous spirit of fraternity that marks the grandeur of the American soldier. The valor and heroism of the men who faced each other in the bloody struggle at Fort Fisher is the common heritage of our great country. Their matchless bravery and heroic deeds are acknowledged without cavil or envy, and today those heroes, bent and grey, marking time almost at the end of the march of life, gather as a band of brothers, forgetting and forgiving the differences and strife of the past!

All at Fort Fisher were heroes—those whose book of life was sealed on that bloody ground—those who survived the carnage. Those who survived to forget and forgive were left by Providence to illustrate the highest, the truest and the noblest conception of manhood. It is not all of heroism to die on the field grimly facing the enemy, but it is magnificent and lofty heroism to survive the shot and shell and later to shake hands, lock arms and be brothers.

What American is there who cannot feel a choking sense of pride that American soldiery is best illustrated by unflinching bravery and superb magnanimity? Looking from the Southern side to the North, what soldier more illustrates these traits than General Newton M. Curtis, of New York, the Federal hero of Fort Fisher? He led the awful charge that wrested Fort Fisher from her gallant defenders, and in the moment of victory he received a terrible wound which almost sealed his life and which will follow him to the grave. However, General Curtis is as grand in peace as he is in war. With the bone shot away over his eye and blinded forever on account of his devotion to the Union at Fort Fisher, he is the chiefest exemplar of the bravery and magnanimity that gathered the braves of the Blue and the Gray at Utica. It is no "pent up Utica" that contains him. He is America's and as we Southerners are Americans with a big A, Gen. Curtis and all like him are ours.

The brave and the magnanimous soldiery of America (no North, no South in it) indicate men of the highest type of all humanity and a grateful country should lose no time in erecting at Fort Fisher monuments that shall perpetuate the memories of men of such unsurpassed heroism and enobling traits of a true manhood.

THE EXPLORER WHO KNOWS THE MOST.

Both Dr. Cook and Commander Peary will make traffic out of their discovery of the North Pole. They expect to "make their jack" by delivering lectures and selling books. The one who gives the best description, displays more scientific knowledge, and leaves open the fewest gaps for merciless critics will be considered the "main guy" who reached "the top of the world."

What good would it be for an ignoramus to discover the North Pole or butt into the empyrean? He couldn't tell anybody abouttt he stunt and his exploration wouldn't amount to a hill of beans. The adventure, the daring, the intrepedity, and achievement will be recognized in both explorers, but whichever will leave a book that will most interest the world, will contribute most to knowledge and science, and occupy a place among the "five feet of books" in the world's libraries will get the glory and jingle the most coin.

The fellow who got to "the top of the world" first will be merely mentioned if he can't tell much about it, but the explorer who can enmesh the world with the scientific importance of the discovery and entrance us with the romance of the adventure will take the cake. Even if both discovered the frozen apex of this mundane sphere, even if it were a year's difference between their notable and startling achievements, what will it count against the book that will most enlighten the world and stand till dooms day in the annals of science?

It must be awfully humiliating for Atlanta to be taking lessons from Charlotte how to conduct building and loans associations.

Wouldn't give you a shuck who was first to discover the North Pole. We've got our money on the man who can tell us the most about the blamed thing.

The Norfolk Landmark correctly sizes up "political fusion." The first thing it suggests is spoils, the compromise of principle, and the net result is party disruption.

Peary's Arctic steamer, the Roosevelt, was considerably damaged by the ice. A steamer by that name would be supposed to be sufficiently strenuous to "cut the ice."

Dr. Cook and Commander Peary both claim to have discovered the North Pole and keep on disputing over their claims. We pass over the contentions of the gentlemen as mere allegations till proof of all prevarications is submitted.

Talk about ambition! What do you think of Greensboro? The papers there, without regard to politics, make no bones of fell design to have the State capital removed from Raleigh to the Gate City, which is Greensboro's alias. Greensboro's enviousness is bound to incur the enmity of Raleigh.

Dr. Cook and Peary have accused each other of purloining each other's supplies and inveigling each other's helpful Esquimos. Now comes the charge that Peary seized Cook's house. Great Scott! These explorers make a noise like Virginia politicians endeavoring to get the inside track for an office.

At Asheville, N. C., on Friday night, a burglar entered the room of Mr. and Mrs. Marlow and stole a stocking containing $100 in cash. The savings bank, which pays 4 per cent. interest compounded quarterly, has the stocking and the tin can skinned to death. Why don't Asheville people find that out? Maybe the Asheville banks don't advertise right.

—Peary, no more than Cook, reached the pole accompanied by any white man. The naval officer had with him on his final dash several Eskimos and —a negro. Matt Henson, the explorer's faithful body servant, stood at the North Pole if Peary did. Surely the equator and the pole came near meeting that day.—Charlotte Observer.

—A statement is going the rounds of the press to the effect that a miner from the far North of Canada, returning to civilization, saw a woman for the first time and did not know what to make of her. In this he differs nothing from those of his kind who see women every day. Woman has been a puzzle from the dawn of creation and bids fair to so continue to the end of recorded time. No man knows what to make of her, no man has known and no man ever will.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

—Of the 26,000,000 spindles in this country about 11,000,000 are located in the cotton States amid the cotton fields. New England has no intention of abdicating in favor of the South. New England has no advantages of raw material, fuel or labor, and yet it does the larger share of the spinning in this country. And so far as weaving is concerned, the situation is even worse; and so far as printing is concerned, not a yard is printed from one end of the cotton belt to the other. And yet William Hartley Chadwick, of Providence, R. I., says there would be good money in cotton printing in the South.—Goldsboro Argus.

Attractive Variable Route—Excursion Fares by the ATLANTIC COAST LINE.

The Atlantic Coast Line has issued a folder announcing attractive excursion fares to a number of Eastern resorts, including Niagara Falls, Montreal and Quebec, going and returning by the Atlantic Coast Line as far as Washington, but by widely variable routes north of that city, that is, a passenger can select almost any route from Washington to destination and return by almost any other regular route.

These rates open up a new method of traveling and will no doubt be largely patronized, as New York, Boston and nearly all the Eastern resorts can be reached by one of these "Variable Routes," or what may be more properly termed "Circular Tour," tickets especially as liberal stop-over privileges will be allowed.

One of the folders giving the routes in detail with rates and other information may be obtained by calling on or addressing the undersigned.

RUNNING THE GANTLET.

An Indian Incident In Indiana's Pioneer Days.

David Johnson, one of the early settlers of Indiana, was a noted hunter and at one time was with a hunting party of which John Severns was a member. On that occasion the early settlement of the state was discussed. Mr. Severns, having been there so many years before any other white man, was accepted as authority on all such subjects. In the "Pioneer History of Indiana" Colonel W. M. Cockrum gives one of Mr. Severns' stories as repeated by Mr. Johnson.

Mr. Severns said that in the fall of 1793 he was with half a dozen of his Indian neighbors, hunting, and that he stayed all night at an Indian village. During the night two white prisoners were brought in, and preparations were made for their trial and death.

First two lines were formed facing each other, and the two men were compelled to run the gantlet between the lines. A point some hundred yards beyond the lines of the gantlet was designated as the place that was to be reached to save their lives.

One of the men was of middle age, but frail; the other was a strong, athletic young fellow. The lines were made up of more than 100 Indians, mostly squaws and boys, with enough active men to keep the prisoners from getting away. The young man was the first to make the race. He got through the lane and to the life station without being much hurt.

The older man before he started held up his hands and offered a prayer to God for aid, then commenced the race, which was not more than half completed before he was knocked down by a heavy club in the hands of a squaw and was set upon by the horde of squaws and boys and beaten to death.

As soon as he was knocked down the young man, who was several hundred feet away, ran like a deer and jumped into the throng of Indians and tried to save his friend's life, but was soon overpowered and dragged away.

For this brave act the chief of the village adopted the young man to take the place of a son whom he had lost.

Mr. Severns, on being asked why he did not intercede for the prisoners, said that if he had attempted to interfere it would have cost him his life.

THE JOY OF EATING.

It Is Courted to the Fullest Extent In Berlin.

The Germans in a good many ways get more happiness out of life as they go along than we do. Eating is an innocent pleasure, and they eat oftener and more. No one is required to get up to breakfast. There is never any formal family breakfast. Coffee and rolls are sent to your room, or you can go into the dining room and get them when you choose. Not having had breakfast enough, a German spends all the rest of the day in making up for it. At 10:30 or 11 everybody takes lunch. The laborers along the streets all stop to eat. And in general it may be said that in all places and at all hours it is good form and a matter of course to draw out a substantial sandwich of rye bread and raw ham and go to munching. Women do it at the opera. Students do it at the university between classes. Dinner comes at 2 o'clock. About 5 the maid brings to your room coffee and rolls and perhaps cake. At 8 p. m. is supper. Those who are going out to any entertainment may have supper at 6 or 7. But there is always a long enough intermission at the opera or theater for those who are disposed to take lunch, and most persons are disposed.

There are innumerable restaurants all about the city, and tens of thousands of people eat there, sitting at little tables in the open air right by the sidewalk. After the day with all its cares and meals is over it is a favorite custom to go to a restaurant and sit there for half the night eating and drinking and listening to music. No city in the world hears so much good music so cheaply as Berlin. And everybody who is anybody knows enough about music to talk with some intelligence.—Berlin Letter to Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

A Greater Loss.

Here is a laughable experience of Lord Sheffield. He was once walking down Piccadilly with a friend, to whom he explained that it would be impossible for any one to pick his pocket without his knowledge. Lord Sheffield's pocket handkerchief was hanging out, and his friend, having diverted his attention, quietly abstracted it. Instantly Lord Sheffield collared a seedy looking man who was passing and charged him with the theft, but, the friend producing the handkerchief and explaining the joke, the unfortunate individual whom his lordship had so unceremoniously seized was released with many apologies. The man beat a hasty retreat, and shortly afterward Lord Sheffield discovered that he had lost his watch.—London Express.

Sure of Something Good.

Grubb—Can you rely on him to—

Van Antler—Not always, but this evening I requested him to send us up something from the kitchen table.—Puck.

Again or Yet?

Staylaight—Oh, Miss Wobbins, may I come to see you again? Miss Wobbins—Well, I cannot see how you can very well unless you go this time!—Life.

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER ETC.

While Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, etc., are troubles which affect the skin, their source is far deeper than the outside cuticle. These affections are caused by irritating humors, or uratic acid in the blood. Such impurities inflame and irritate the delicate net-work of fibrous tissue which lies just beneath the surface of the outer skin, and the inflammatory discharge thus produced is forced out through the pores and glands, and is continually kept up while the blood remains infected. This exudation causes the formation of scales and crusts so often seen in Eczema, and when they are scratched off the flesh is left raw and more susceptible to other infection. It can very readily be seen then that to produce a cure the circulation must be purified and cleansed. This S. S. S. will do. It goes down to the very bottom, removes all humors and impurities, neutralizes the excessive acids of the system and in this way removes the cause of disease. Local applications can only soothe the irritation and assist in keeping the skin clean; they never produce a cure because such treatment does not reach the blood. S. S. S. restores to the thin, acrid blood all its lost properties, makes it pure and rich and enables it to nourish the skin and keep it soft, smooth and healthy. BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Routine Matters Considered at Regular Meeting Yesterday.

Only matters of a routine nature were considered at the regular monthly meeting of the County Board of Education in session in the office of Superintendent Washington Catlett in the Court House yesterday morning. As practically all of the rural schools of the county have opened for the Fall term there were no matters of special importance to be thrashed out by the board, the time being taken up principally in hearing a report from Prof. Catlett as to the progress of repairs being made on some of the buildings and the enrollment of the schools so far visited by the superintendent. Work on the new school building on the Castle Haynes road is progressing rapidly and the building will be ready for occupancy by October 4th, the time the contract calls for completion. Owing to the establishment of a private school in the district, which will care for a large number of pupils, only one teacher will be employed this year.

The monthly report of Mr. H. McL. Green, county treasurer, was received. The meeting was presided over by Mr. W. H. Sprunt in the absence of the chairman, J. O. Carr, Esq., who is out of the city, with Captain John H. Hanby in attendance.

TAFT DAY MEETING

Committee Arranging This Feature Met at Y. M. C. A. Last Night.

An interesting meeting of the committee arranging the musical feature for the Taft celebration here in November was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. with a full attendance of members and plans were formulated to carry out this part of the arrangements in a most elaborate manner.

The committee composed of Messrs. C. W. Hollowbush, chairman, Alex Holden, Henry Gieschen, S. A. Schloss, S. W. Sanders, E. H. Munson and Capt. W. F. Corbett have been making preliminary arrangements since they were appointed and last evening passed resolutions in which they instructed the chairman, Mr. Hollowbush, to make this feature one of the most notable and interesting ever held in the State. They propose to get five bands from South Carolina and Virginia to participate and these with others in Wilmington will make this a particularly strong feature. The committee was in session over an hour and discussed many phases of the musical programme, which they consider is of great importance to the success of the celebration. All members of the committee were present.

EPISCOPAL MISSION BEGINS

Archdeacon Webber Preached Powerful Sermon to Large and Attentive Congregation—The Services Today.

Archdeacon Webber, of Boston, Mass., began a Mission at the Church of the Good Shepherd, corner of Sixth and Queen streets, last night by preaching a powerful sermon to a large and attentive congregation. The distinguished divine has preached in Wilmington before and is always heard by large congregations and the deepest interest is manifested.

Last night he used as his subject, "Parable of the Good Shepherd," and he handled his theme in such a manner as to hold the undivided attention of the congregation throughout the able discourse.

He drew a beautiful picture of the shepherd who in the morning leads his flock out to pastures green; at noonday they rest and at night he gathers them into the fold for protection. This was used to illustrate the relation of Jesus, the Good Shepherd, to His people. He spoke of the individuality of man after the coming of Christ and stated that the only true satisfaction in living came to the man who learned to obey the teachings of Christ. Seldom have the people of Wilmington been privileged to hear such able discourses and no preacher has had a congregation that followed his remarks more closely.

This morning at 7:30 o'clock communion service will be held and tonight at 8 o'clock Mr. Webber will preach, using as his theme, "Faith." Two services a day will be held throughout the week and Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock there will be a special meeting for the Girl's Friendly Society and children. Friday afternoon there will be a meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to which the members of all the other auxiliaries of the Wilmington parishes are invited.

NEED TIME BALL FOR PORT.

Ship Captains Anxious for Government to Place One Here.

The need of a time ball at the local port for the convenience of shipping interests is a matter which will soon be called to the attention of the Government, the necessity of which has recently been discussed by captains of American and foreign vessels in this port.

The time ball is most serviceable to ships in setting their chronometers daily and at most of the ports along the Atlantic seaboard among which is Charleston and Savannah, they are placed on the postoffice buildings. The captains of vessels in the harbor always watch the ball at 12 o'clock when it drops and set their chronometers accordingly, thereby keeping the correct Washington time. These time balls all over the country drop simultaneously. At the request of a number of British captains in port, Mr. Felger, the weather observer, has been dropping a flag each day at noon, which takes the place of the time ball.

DEATH OF MR. G. H. BROWN.

Well Known Citizen Passes Away—Funeral Services Today.

Mr. Brown was in the 76th year of his age and was born in Cambridgeport, Mass., but has made his home in Wilmington for the past 30 years. He was one of the oldest and best known citizens of the city and had a large number of friends. He had been ill only about ten days. He is survived by one brother, Mr. Frank B. Brown, of this city, and a number of nieces who reside elsewhere.

COL. O'BRIEN'S FUNERAL

On account of the death of Col. Michael O'Brien, president of the Southern Express Company, who passed away in New York Saturday night, both the uptown and union station offices were yesterday draped in mourning in respect to the late president. The following from Sunday's Greensboro Telegram will be read with interest here: "Mr. L. C. Smith, who has been assitant superintendent here for the Life Insurance Company of Virginia for six years, has been transferred to Wilmington where he will also serve as assistant superintendent. His family will follow him to Wilmington in about two weeks. He has been a valuable assistant to Superintendent Hargrave and the latter's predecessors and those who have been associated with him agree that his promotion to a wider field with greater responsibilities and larger salary is well earned. He is succeeded by Mr. J. A. Wilson, another valued employe of the Virginia Life."

The Theatre

The Crystal Palace began its second week yesterday and ushered in a new bill with a large audience, the afternoon performances being especially well attended. The night performances were also largely attended, and the new bill seemed to give fine satisfaction, as each audience laughed much and applauded loudly. There are four good acts in the offering, but the one that seemed to score the biggest hit was presented by Miss Olga Retsoff, an exceedingly comely and graceful bit of femininity, who presented a refined and "dressy" singing act. She possesses a good voice and an attractive personality. Miss Olive Cline, a dainty singing and dancing soubrette, was another prime favorite while Kehler and Adams, comedy musical artists, furnished a rattling good finale for the show. They served up bright comedy and some good music. The blackface comedian, Frank Oppie, is also on the bill.

At the Bijou Today.

The Bijou announces an unusually attractive bill for today. The feature pictures will be "The Heart of a Race Tout" and "The Romance of a Policeman." The first picture deals with the struggles of a young man who has recently taken unto himself a wife. He was a willing worker but the fates were against him and he seeks in vain for employment. Finally, however, he makes $500 on a race and is thereby able to pay his rent and for medicine for his wife, leaving a comfortable balance. The other picture will be found equally as interesting for the "blue coat" finds himself in many exciting situations.

WAS BOAT FROM FLEET

Solves Mystery of Supposed Wreck Seen by Capt. Bennett.

The supposed wreck sighted by Captain Bennett, of the schooner James M. Hall, off Bodie's Island, near Cape Hatteras, when his vessel was sailing down the coast a few days ago bound to Wilmington, proved to be a target boat from the fleet, which at the present time is holding maneuvers off the Virginia capes.

As previously mentioned Capt. Bennett stated that it was a very strange object and was particularly noticeable on account of the large flag on it that projected some 15 feet on the mast above the water. The flag bore the large letter "E" which attracted many passing steamers and sailing vessels and really proved a mystery. A passing British steamer reported the floating flag and boat at Norfolk and after some inquiry it proved to be a target from one of the big battleships, which had drifted from its position.

From Wrightsville in Launch.

Capt. C. D. Maffitt and a party, while bringing around the launch Scuppernong from Wrightsville Beach to Wilmington Sunday met with misfortune, when the engine broke down and they were forced to sail in from Carolina Beach a part of the distance. They were picked up by a pilot boat some two miles off the bar and the boat was towed up the river by the steamer Madeleine.

CAPE FEAR ACADEMY

Thirty-Seventh Annual Session Begins Tomorrow Morning.

The thirty-seventh annual session of Cape Fear Academy, one of the oldest and best known institutions of learning in this section of the State, will open tomorrow morning at 8:45 o'clock in the Odd Fellows' Building on Third street. Prof. Washington Catlett, the principal, stated yesterday that the prospects for a large enrollment are splendid. Each year there are enrolled many pupils whose fathers were taught by the principal, and many of the leading young business men of Wilmington were prepared in this school for college or other duties of life.

ACADEMY'S CHAIRS ARRIVED.

Handsome and Modern Chairs Will Now be Installed.

The Academy's delayed opera chairs for the parquet reached Wilmington yesterday and will now be installed. There are exactly 436, which will be the increased number of chairs downstairs. There were 388 of the old chairs, but cutting away the stage apron has allowed more room; hence the increased number. The chairs are green, with leather backs and in color will harmonize with the rich green carpets that will be placed in the new theatre. The effect, as can be imagined, will be beautiful.

RECORDER'S COURT DOCKET

A Large Number of Cases Heard Yesterday Morning—Several Defendants Get Terms on the County Roads.

Recorder Furlong had a varied docket yesterday morning, the charges against the defendants ranging from plain drunkenness to abandonment and non-support, including disorderly conduct, assault with deadly weapon, affray and larceny. All told some 16 or 18 cases were disposed of and court was in session over two hours.

The longest sentence on the roads was given James Bellamy, colored, charged with abandonment and non-support. The preliminary hearing was before Justice Sykes, who found probable cause. Willie Richardson, colored, was given a term of three months for assault with deadly weapon upon Early Williams. Williams and Richardson were arrested on the charge of an affray. It developed from the evidence that Williams was not guilty and he was released. It also was shown that Richardson was guilty of a graver offense than affray and the warrant was accordingly changed to assault with deadly weapon. James Davis, colored, who had been summoned as a witness in the case was called and failed. He was fined $5 and a capias was issued for him.

Alex. Todd, colored, was arrested on the charge of drunkenness and he sought to free himself from the officer by biting. His efforts to gain his freedom caused the officer to lodge the additional charge of disorderly conduct. The Recorder did not like the method adopted by Todd to gain his liberty and imposed a fine of $10 and costs, remarking that probably the negro would be a little more careful in the future as to how he used his teeth.

Henderson Hays, colored, was given a straight sentence of 30 days on the county roads for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, the Recorder feeling certain that the defendant could not pay a fine.

Robt. and Lillie Smith, husband and wife, were called to answer to the charge of disorderly conduct. The man was found not guilty and the woman was let off upon payment of costs. Geo. L. Peschau, Esq., appeared for the husband. DeRosset McMillan, colored, charged with an affray, was required to pay costs. He was represented by Geo. L. Peschau, Esq.

Mabel Harriss, a white woman of questionable character, who was recently tried and convicted on the charge of selling whiskey, was up again yesterday to answer to the charge of disorderly conduct and assault upon Jordan McIver. It appeared from the testimony that the woman had ordered McIver out of her house and when he refused to go she pounced upon him, felling him across a chair and then did a few pugilistic stunts before the man could regain his equilibrium. After the "undesirable" visitor had unceremoniously made his departure Mabel and a friend started for a carriage which was expected to be in front of the house. The driver, grown weary of waiting, had gone with his turnout. This enraged the woman and she expressed her feelings. Patrolman Rouse heard the language and placed her under arrest. However, it was shown that the woman did not speak in a very loud tone of voice and could not have been heard many steps away, hence the Recorder dismissed the disorderly conduct case. She was found guilty of assault and was required to pay $5 and costs. Walter P. Gafford, Esq., represented the defendant.

Henry Gause, colored, arrested Saturday afternoon on the charge of stealing a suit of clothes from Chas. Robinson, colored, at Bolton, on Aug. 30th, was arraigned for trial. The Recorder raised the question of his jurisdiction. Brooke G. Empie, Esq., who represented the defendant, said that he thought the Recorder could try the case since the defendant raised no objection, he being the only one under the law who had a right to demand trial where the crime was alleged to have been committed. With this statement the case was heard. Robinson had noticed that Gause was wearing the pants to a suit of clothes that was stolen from him with a number of other pieces of wearing apparel. The defendant introduced several witnesses to show that he purchased the pants from an unknown negro man for 50 cents. The Recorder discharged the defendant.

A number of other cases in which the defendants were charged with drunkenness, were tried and the usual fine imposed.

INTERESTING PHENOMENA.

Party at Summer Resort Observed Mars Swaying in Heavens.

It was learned here last night that a number of persons at a well known Summer resort in the central portion of the State observed an interesting phenomena in the heavens Sunday night. The planet Mars could be seen with the naked eye to move about in the heavens, first down, then up and then crosswise. This was observed for an hour or more and each of the several persons sitting on the porch agreed upon the time the planet moved, thus precluding any assertion that the famous snake-bite remedy was used to any considerable extent by the observers. So far as could be learned last night no person in Wilmington paid any especial attention to Mars Sunday night. It was stated, however, that the phenomena was witnessed some two years ago.

BOTH COMPRESSES WILL WORK

Large Shipments of Cotton Received Here Make it Necessary—First Season Since Fall of 1906. Foreign Exports.

In order that the large shipments of cotton being received at the local port may be rapidly prepared for transport to foreign markets, both the Champion and Upper compresses of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son will be placed in operation this week for the first time since the Fall of 1906.

The cotton last year was handled through the Champion compress at foot of Red Cross street, while the Upper compress remained idle through the season. The earlier crop year and the higher prices prevailing at the opening of the season is hurrying the staple here from the surrounding cotton sections in North and South Carolina and Georgia.

Yesterday's receipts were 2,703 bales, which came by rail on Sunday, and two extra freight with cotton arrived over the Coast Line yesterday, the number of bales on which will appear in today's receipts. This will probably be the best showing so far this season.

The Champion compress has been in operation since the first of the season. A portion of the cotton received is being transferred to the Upper compress at the foot of Harnett street, which will likely start operations tomorrow. The latter compress was used during September, 1906, which proved one of the best cotton seasons in this section for some years prior to that.

Three steamers are in port at present to receive cotton and the Putney Bridge, which was the first to arrive, will soon be loaded. The other two are German and British steamers.

A DISEASE OF POVERTY

Dr. C. H. Lavinder, Formerly of Wilmington, on Pellagra.

According to a dispatch sent out from Washington, D. C., Dr. C. H. Lavinder, formerly in charge of the United States Marine Hospital in this city, is making a special study of pellagra, the disease which has so far baffled the medical fraternity here and abroad. The dispatch says that "Dr. C. H. Lavinder, who has made a special study of pellagra, is inclined to the belief that it is 'essentially, though not exclusively, a disease of poverty, ill nourishment, bad hygienic surrounding, and often alcoholism.' In the judgment of Dr. Lavinder, no specific antidote for the disease has been discovered, but the use of arsenic has proved beneficial in combating certain toxic manifestations."

The same dispatch states that "Dr. Carl L. Alsberg is studying the disease from the viewpoint of agriculture. While it has not been demonstrated that the disease originates from the use of corn and its products, the assumption of the authorities is that it does."

Dr. Lavinder is well known in Wilmington having been in charge of the Marine Hospital, as stated, for three or four years.

PROSECUTION IS STOPPED.

Victims of Robinson Reimbursed, Court Proceedings Dropped.

Having satisfied those who cashed alleged spurious checks for him by payment of the amounts involved, F. G. Robinson, a young white man, will not be prosecuted here and the authorities in Washington, D. C., where the young man has been detained for several days by the police ,have been asked by Chief of Police N. J. Williams to return the warrant sworn out by Mr. Wm. Struthers, Jr., and forwarded to the Capital City last Friday afternoon.

In addition to the check for $40 cashed by Mr. Struthers there were two others, the three aggregating $165. Mrs. Robinson arrived here one day last wek and succeeded in getting the victims of Mr. Robinson to stop the prosecution upon the payment of the full amount and the costs to which [illegible] have been put. The application for requisition papers has also been recalled.

The case against young Robinson in Washington will come up today and it is practically certain that the case will be dismissed, the amount of the alleged bogus check having been paid, it is stated.

MEETING OF BOYS' BRIGADE

Plans for Next Year Mapped Out—Regular Election of Civil Officers—Col. Walker Taylor Speaks—Notes.

The first regular business meeting of the Boys' Brigade since the annual encampment at Southport in the Summer was held in the armory, corner Second and Church streets, last night with a large attendance. In addition to the members of Company A, there were present a large number of members of Company B.

The plans of the organization for the year were mapped out and great interest was manifested in each feature under discussion. The regular drills, which have been suspended during the Summer, will be resumed next Monday night. The monthly debates which proved so interesting and beneficial last Winter will be held again this Winter, the first about the first of October.

President—Claude Hill.
Vice President—Leonard Gore.
Secretary—Chas. C. Loughlin, Esq.
Treasurer—James A. Price.

Mr. Loughlin, the secretary, a prominent young member of the local bar, will be the manager of the Brigade again this year, his work in that capacity last year being of such a high order that his selection for the place this year was a foregone conclusion. He will spend his evenings at the armory. The gymnastic department will again be in charge of Mr. Wilbur Dosher, who has charge of this feature of the work for several years. He is now arranging for the indoor field meet with the Y. M. C. A. which will be held some time this Winter.

After the business of the meeting had been disposed of the members were privileged to hear an interesting lecture by Col. Walker Taylor, who told in his usual pleasing manner of his recent 1,000-mile trip to points in Canada. The remarks of Colonel Taylor were intensely interesting from start to finish and notwithstanding the fact that his lecture came at the close of the session, it was voted one of the most pleasing features of the gathering.

MR. SINCLAIR TRANSFERRED.

Popular Young Traveling Auditor Goes to Waycross, Ga.

Many friends in Wilmington and along this division of the system will be interested to learn of the transfer of Mr. David B. Sinclair, one of the popular young traveling auditors of the Atlantic Coast Line, to Waycross, Ga., where he will have headquarters in the future. The transfer is in the nature of a promotion for Mr. Sinclair and while his friends will congratulate him upon his preferment, they will regret very much his removal from this city. Mr. Sinclair leaves tonight for his new post of duty, carrying with him the best wishes of everyone.

Funeral of Child Yesterday.

The funeral of little Victor Earle, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Johnson whose death occurred at the family home, No. 714 Queen street Sunday afternoon, was conducted yesterday at 4 P. M. from the home by Elder C. T. Green. The services were attended by a large concourse of friends, who expressed much sympathy for the parents in their bereavement. The child's death occurred after an acute illness. Following the funeral the remains were interred in Oakdale cemetery.

Secret Ink.

A simple expedient when one wishes to confide his secrets to paper and yet keep them is to use ordinary rice water instead of ink. It cannot be seen when dry, but turns blue when iodine is applied to it. If it be desired to make perfectly sure of the destruction of the contents of the letter after it has been read the purpose may be accomplished by writing it with a solution of iodide of starch in water. A few days later the script will have disappeared.

CULTURE OF STRAWBERRIES

Result of Recent Investigations Here by Mr. Beattie as Outlined by Mr. B. T. Galloway, Chief of Bureau of Plant Industry.

Through United States Senator Lee S. Overman, of Salisbury, the Star has just received the report below from Hon. B. T. Galloway, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, with reference to the recent visit here of Mr. W. R. Beattie, investigating the conditions as to strawberry culture and the needs of improved methods in this culture. The suggestions made in the report are very important and Senator Overman writes that not only should this report be published here but the weekly papers in this section should give it the widest publicity in order that all the growers may see and act upon the suggestions. The report is as follows:

Washington, D. C., Aug. 24, 1909.
Hon. Lee S. Overman, Salisbury, N. C.

Dear Senator Overman: As previously reported to you, we sent Mr. W. R. Beattie, one of our Horticulturists, to Wilmington, to make a study of the conditions surrounding strawberry growing in that section. As was to be expected, Mr. Beattie found a complication of causes at work and endeavored to point out these to the gentlemen with whom he came in contact. The situation is one that the growers themselves will largely have to handle as it is a question of adopting different methods and differences, if the strawberry interests are to be rehabilitated.

I am of the opinion that your people should endeavor to enlist the cooperation of the State Experiment Station in their cause, as the question is largely a local one and should be handled by the local forces as far as practicable. There is little further that we can do in the matter except to extend to the Station our services i fthey are needed and any other assistance that may be required.

Mr. Beattie finds that first of all the strawberry lands are not sufficiently well drained; that owing to the cropping systems the humus or organic matter has been largely depleted, hence the physical condition of the soil is not satisfactory; no well established systems of rotation are followed and adequate attention is not given to the prevention of diseases and insects. Mr. Beattie sums up his studies of the situation as follows:

1. Deepen all open ditches and tile drain wherever possible, also carefully level and grade the soil before planting in order to avoid basins where water would stand after rains.

2. The adoption of a system of crop rotation, including soil renovation and humus-producing crops, and the avoidance of too frequent employment of the land for strawberries.

3. The use of lime in limited quantities in the preparation of the land for strawberries.

4. The application of animal fertilizers in preference to the exclusively mineral manures now being used in large quantities. Fertilizer dealers are now recommending the use of a mixture having basic slag as its base. My recommendation is to use a ton of finely ground bone-meal to an acre of land during the preparation of planting, then when renovating old beds to apply from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of a high-grade animal fertilizer containing at least 4 per cent nitrogen, 6 per cent. available phosphoric acid ,and 6 per cent potash, the potash to have its source in the form of sulphate.

5. A reduction of the acreage planted and better care of the crop, especially during the season of cultivation.

6. Frequent and thorough spraying as a preventive of both insect and disease enemies of the strawberries.

7. The perfection of an organization to handle the inspection and sales end of the business. Under this head to include the proper grading and packing of the fruit.

Very sincerely,
B. T. GALLOWAY,
Chief of Bureau.

—Tht Portsmouth Star insists that the President must be treated to a genuine Virginia oyster roast when he comes here in November, and The Wilmington, N. C., Star thus outlines what is to be set before the distinguished visitor when he gets down there: "Georgia trotted out her 'possum to tempt President Taft. There are plenty of 'possums around Wilmington, but the succulent rice bird, the butter fat coot, the toothsome canvas back duck, the New River oyster, the little neck clam, the Mansonboro shrimp, New Hanover venison, young bear steak, the delicacies of an overflowing sea and of a land that lavishes luxuries will be at the President's bidding in this part of the country." Whereupon The Charlotte Observer remarks that the President had better begin a strenuous campaign of fat-reducing at once. We suggest that our contemporaries ponder the significance of Mr. Taft's request that the proposed barbecue in his honor at Augusta, Ga., be left off programme. It looks as if he intends to avoid temptation.—Norfolk Landmark.

—A Denver man says he was standing on platform of a small town railroad station not very far from this city Wednesday when a youth from the country came up and began gazing at the train report blackboard. On the board was written: "All trains on time September 1." After study the board a couple of minutes the young man turned around, frowning. "All trains on time 'cept one," he said. "I'll bet that there one is the very one I come here to meet."—Denver Post.

The Road to Success.

has many obstructions, but none so desperate as poor health. Success today demands health, but Electric Bitters is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, and tones and invigorates the whole system. Vigorous body and keen brain follow their use. You can't afford to slight Electric Bitters if weak, run-down or sickly. Only 50c. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

"That may be so," replied the man who had failed. "But it's pretty hard to have to admit that the best you could do was to fail."—Detroit Free Press.

—Shelby, Sept. 11.—A letter was received here yesterday by Col. O. M. Gardner, from the superintendent of the State penitentiary, Mr. J. J. Laughinghouse, announcing the death there on the previous day of Shuford Randall, a white man, who was sent from Cleveland county three weeks ago to serve a seven-year term. Randall was tried at the August term of Cleveland Superior Court and the case was the most important one tried at our recent term of court and was hotly contested. The charge against Randall was having intercourse with his step-daughter before she reached the age of 14 years, which offense is a felony under the law, and can be punished by 10 years imprisonment in the State prison. Solicitor Clarkson was aided in the prosecution by Ryburn & Hoey, while the defendant was represented by Messrs. O. M. Gardner and O. F. Mason. Randall was convicted and sentenced as stated in the foregoing, and he was accordingly carried to the State prison. Randall was well connected and had hitherto borne a good character. He was apparently in good health three weeks ago when he left here and his death was a great surprise to the people generally.

—Tobacco is raised in 25 States of the Union. Kentucky produces one-third of all American tobacco. Next to Kentucky comes North Carolina and Ohio. Large quantities are also grown in Wisconsin, Indiana, South Carolina, Tennessee, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Connecticut. The leaf is found in Illinois, Missouri, New York, West Virginia, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. The total output of tobacco in the United States in 1908, which was not a year of full production, was 718,061,380 pounds, the value of which was estimated at $74,130,185. —Southern Tobacco Journal.

—Fayetteville, Sept. 11.—E. Draughon, a colored man, 35 years old, while being taken from the Raleigh & Southport station to a doctor's office in this city, died in his brother's arms. He was ill with consumption and was brought here for treatment.

—Salisbury Post: Mr. E. A. Barber, who was in Salisbury today, reports that Mr. James Belk killed a bald eagle two miles above Cleveland Saturday afternoon, declared by Mr. G. J. Chandler, the taxidermist, to be the finest specimen he had ever seen. The eagle measures 6 feet 7 inches from tip to tip and Mr. Chandler began preparing to mount it as soon as it was placed in his care.

—Wadesboro, Sept. 11.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Wadesboro shows a most prosperous year for that institution. The members of the old board of directors were re-elected. An extra dividend of 2 per cent. was declared, making 10 per cent. for the year. The directors re-elected T. J. Covington, president; F. C. Allen, vice president; C. M. Burns, cashier and Adam Lockhart, assistant cashier.

—Bakersville, Sept. 11.—Yesterday news reached here of a tragedy in the eastern end of the county. Ed L. Young was shot and instantly killed in his home near Cranberry. It is reported that Young was in his home and Woodun Greene went to his door and emptied his revolver into Young. No particulars can be learned. It is reported that Young and Greene were both drinking. Young was one of the most prominent citizens of the county. He ran for the House of Representatives in the year 1908. Greene made his escape.

—Fayetteville, Sept. 12.—Stephen Russell, a Confederate veteran, aged about 70, dropped dead while attending services this morning at Hay Street Methodist church in this city. He had been very feeble and informed his wife this morning that he wished to attend church once more in his life. Russell and a companion, Burkhardt, were the sole survivors of the burning of an ocean steamer, off Cape Fear, in 1865. Russell, with the aid of a broken spar floated on the water for two days before being rescued. Mr. Russell's ancestors were prominent in this community, Russell street being named in honor of his father.

—Burlington, Sept. 12.—A serious cutting affray occurred on Davis street this afternoon when William Fowler attempted to ofrcibly eject T. A. Lamm from his restaurant for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. After having been knocked down a few times by Fowler, Lamm produced a knife, with which he struck Fowler several times, twice across the eyes inflicting painful and perhaps serious lacerations. Lamm, seeing what he had done, took leg bail, but was caught while crouched beneath some shrubbery about five blocks from the scene of action. Bond for his appearance at trial tomorrow was placed at $500, which he failed to furnish.

—Lumberton, Sept. 12.—Saturday night about 11 o'clock Neil Goodman, colored, who was tanked up on booze was on Water street cursing and boasting that he would kill some man that night. Policeman Alexander Currie was notified and went to arrest the negro. When the policeman approached the negro opened fire on him, discharging five shots, none of which took effect. The policeman, acting in self-defense, emptied a round of shots at the negro, one passing entirely through his body. After being shot the negro walked home and sent for a physician. Sunday morning he was removed to the Thompson hospital, where he died about 12 o'clock. Coroner Rancke held an inquest Sunday afternoon. The jury's verdict was justifiable homicide.

—Lexington, Sept. 11.—The furniture business here is gaining in volume. The two plants of the Elk and Dixie Furniture companies are shipping 60 cars a month, and have abundant orders. The business depression which has checked activity here as elsewhere, is disappearing and the town is taking on new life. Every citizen believes that the era of development in Lexington, Thomasville and Davidson county generally, is near at hand. It is regarded as inevitable that Lexington will soon become a very important manufacturing center, because it will be on two trunk lines of railroads, will have unlimited electric power by reason of the Southern Power Company's coming, and has already laid the foundations for building up great industrial interests.

—Rocky Mount, Sept. 12.—It is understood that Mrs. W. D. Shaw is circulating a petition for the purpose of asking executive clemency regarding her husband who is now serving a term with the road force of the Rocky Mount road district, for having made an assault on his wife with a pistol with intent to kill. Shaw was sent to the roads about two years ago by the Recorder's court in this city, since that time the man has tried to work his own destruction by cutting the arteries of his arm, but his attempt was unsuccessful. One petition has already been presented to the Governor asking for a pardon for this man, but the same was denied. It is understood that the petition will be headed by the signature of his wife, on whom the assault was made, and that the fact that the man's family is in stringent circumstances and in need of the support that the man could give them, will play some little part in the effort being made to secure the liberty of the man.

Night on Bald Mountain.

On a lonely night Alex. Benton of Fort Edward. N. Y., climbed Bald Mountain to the home of a neighbor, tortured by Asthma, bent on curing him with Dr. King's New Discovery, that had cured himself of asthma. This wonderful medicine soon relieved and quickly cured his neighbor. Later it cured his sons' wife of a severe lung trouble. Millions believe it's the greatest Throat and Lung cure on earth. Coughs, colds, croup, hemorrhages and sore lungs are surely cured by it. Best for hay fever, grip and whooping cough. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 13.—An early decline of $1 per bale in the cotton market was partly recovered in the late trading, the close being firm at a net loss of 7 to 11 points. The market opened easy at a decline of 9 to 16 points and after some little irregularity, sold off to a net loss of 20 points with January touching 12.05, or over $3.50 per bale under the high figures of last Wednesday. This decline was the result of heavy liquidation and stop loss orders on account of weak Liverpool cables. The showing of the English market being attributed to liquidation and hedge selling and suggesting that foreign spinners were less nervous over future supplies owing to the failure of the market to hold its advance since the publication of the September condition figures and the increasing movement. It was rumored that a big Southwestern bull was liquidating his long line, and one broker was credited with selling fully 50,000 bales during the morning. Offerings became lighter after midday. The undertone of the market continued very nervous and unsettled but there was support from covering by shorts and, in the last half hour prices rallied some 10 or 11 points from the lowest. There was nothing in the Southern news to modify bullish crop ideas and temperatures continued very high in the western belt on Saturday, and while the reports of a walk-out as a result of labor troubles in Fall River probably helped the early decline, the general opinion was that these difficulties would be of short duration.

Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-4 lower and fear of the increasing movement appears to be the push against prices.

Receipts at the ports today 41,392 bales against 20,421 last wek and 35,660 last year; for the week 180,000 bales against 151,822 last week and 213,882 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,729 bales against 1,948 last year, and at Houston 22,681 bales against 10,230 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 25 points lower; middling uplands 12.40; middling gulf 12.65; sales 500. Futures opened easy and closed firm.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 13.—The primary cotton goods market was quiet during the day but values were very hard in every direction. The jobbing houses did a good business in prints and solid color patterns for decorative purposes and there was a steady demand for prints for export. A slight improvement reported in some quarters of the worsted dress goods market, but the textile division is not on the soundest possible basis. The interest in raw silk is confined to specialties. Japan silks were again easier.

MARKET GOSSIP.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Sept. 13.—The dull trading and the narrowing price fluctuations in today's stock market marked the normal rate of subsidence from the violent contortions pending the adjustment of last week's leading event. No one supposed that the death of a capitalist of Harriman's power and grasp contained any positive force for betterment of values of securities. The early termination of the headlong advance of Friday was expected, therefore, and an agency of the uncovered short interest in causing it was quite justly recognized. The reactionary tendency which developed on Saturday was pushed by various professional devices in the effort to widen the swing of the price movement on which professional traders' profits depend. The growing exhaustion of last week's powerful motive forces was manifest in the restriction of the reaction and later fluttering vibrations of prices. Such action represents the settling down of the market to await new developments. The remaining traces of feverishness in the movement of Union Pacific were accountable by the steps taking towards the continuity of its administration and to some of the rumors bearing on the future policy of the vast interests and the powerful influences thus involved. The prompt elevation of new members for the board of directors and of the executive committee was regarded as intended to put a stop to some of the rumors of alleged contemplated changes. In the local money market the feature was an active demand for money carrying over the end of the year, for which 4 1-4 per cent. was paid. There is an increasing supply also of commercial paper and prime grade for the regular maturities were marked up to 4 1-2 to 5 per cent. The range for call loans was not changed but some of the banks are said to be calling loans. The fall in Union Pacific allowing for the dividend off today carried off 7 3-8 from the high point of the rally touched on Saturday. The closing of the books today for the coming annual meeting ends any demand for representation at that meeting.

Bonds were weak. Total sales par value $3,556,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales of stocks today were 849,300 shares.

FINANCIAL MARKET.

Sterling exchange steady with actual business in bankers bills at 4.8475 to 4.8485 for sixty day bills and at 4.8625 for demand. Commercial bills 4.84 1-4 to 5-8. Bar silver 51 3-8. —Lexington, Sept. 11.—The first week of actual construction work on the Southbound railroad has brought a feeling that big things are in store for Lexington. Citizens who visit the scene of operations in the western part of the town come back smiling. Until the first lick was struck, even after the road was assured, the Southbound was "in the air," but now it is taking on tangible snape. Scores of splendid factory sites are available along the new road. Mr. J. D. Grimes, of the wealthy firm of Grimes Bros., offers free sites to industries; Mr. C. M. Thompson, retired manufacturer, offers free sites along the Southern railroad and the live board of trade is accomplishing a good deal for the community. The town is filled with strangers and the money being paid out is finding its way into the business channels. The Valley Lumber and Tie Company, which has the contract to furnish 300,000 cross-ties, is buying ties from the farmers by the hundred, paying for the first grades 40 cents each. This firm has its offices here.

TEXAS COTTON CROP

Review of Conditions By Galveston News—Oklahoma Yield.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 13.—In publishing cotton reports from 650 correspondents in Texas and Oklahoma the the Galveston-Dallas News will tomorrow say that report show conditions in Texas September 8th, were 40.1 worse than on the corresponding day in 1908. In Oklahoma 30 per cent. worse.

Except for damage by bool weevils in 52 counties in Texas and three in Oklahoma the deterioration is ascribable solely to the protracted drouth and hot winds.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION IN FRISCO.

Several Women and Men Hurled Into the Street.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—Half a score of persons were injured, several probably fatally, when a boiler in the Lurline baths exploded today. Women patrons were blown through the windows of their compartments into the street and the building was almost completely wrecked. From the second floor of the structure men and women were blown through great gaps in the walls and the windows.

Landsman and Sailor.

To the landsman the sea must always possess dangers that to the sailor appear only as casual phenomena upon which to exercise his skill. The prayer book has a special petition for the safety of those who go down to the sea in ships, and every one who ventures to leave the shore goes forth with a consciousness of awe at his own daring. Yet in the intricate complexity of modern civilization safety on land and safety at sea have walked by no means with equal step. Every morning brings us some story of death or accident on land, while the great passenger ships come and go in monotonous regularity, bringing no reports more stirring than those of high seas that have kept them from making new records. With the present madness for speed and its attendant recklessness our streets demand constant alertness if one would cross them with safety. Speed at sea has come through larger and more stoutly constructed ships. So the familiar old story of the sailorman at sea in a storm who, serene in his consciousness of ample sea room, piously ejaculated, "God help the poor folks ashore tonight!" is not wholly fantastic.—L. Frank Tooker in Century.

On Hiring a Cook.

The woman in need of a cook was so well groomed and looked so generally prosperous that the manager of the employment agency thought he had at last found a place for the high priced French cook for whom he had been trying to find a situation. But the new customer would not even listen to the praises of the French cook.

"Don't mention French cooks to me," she said, "nor graduates of cooking schools. I've tried both. I like their cooking, and I don't object to the wages they ask, but they take up too much room. My kitchen isn't large enough to hold all the cooking utensils they require, and my income isn't large enough to buy them. Those stylish cooks need four times as many pots and pans and molds and things as ordinary cooks use. If I hire a fancy cook I shall have to move into a fancy apartment to get a kitchen big enough to accommodate her."

"That is a common complaint against these experts, foreign and American," sighed the manager. "I am beginning to think there must be something in it."—New York Sun.

The Chauffeur's Rebuke.

An elderly colonel in a New York club is very inquisitive, and there is no question he hesitates to ask. The other day he saw drawn up before a hotel a fine motor car, and at the wheel of the car sat a chauffeur who had formerly been in his own employ. The colonel stopped and asked the chauffeur who his master was, how he liked his job and what wages he drew. The chauffeur answered these questions politely. There was a cold glitter in his eye, though. He was waiting for an opening. It came when the inquisitive old clubman said:

"Er—Gaston, what—er—how much did your employer pay for this car?"

"The fact is, sir," the chauffeur answered promptly, "I never had the impudence to ask him."

The Old Roman Ballot.

The ballot was first introduced into Rome in the second century B. C. This was the real Australian ballot. The voter received a sort of wooden slate covered with wax on which the names of all the candidates were scratched. He made holes in the wax opposite those of his choice and dropped his tablet in the box. After the downfall of the Roman republic popular government took a long sleep, and there was little use for a ballot till quite modern times.

Effort Appreciated.

"So you were deeply touched by the poem young Mr. Guffson wrote to you?" said Maude.

"Yes," answered Maymie.

"But it was not a good poem."

"I don't care. It was just as much trouble for him to write it as if he had been Shakespeare."—Washington Star.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Wilmington Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 7 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full or sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER Signal NO 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Wilmington proof:

Mrs. Laura E. Hand, 809 Ann Street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they did me a world of good. I suffered from dull, nagging backaches and such severe pains across my loins that I was kept from sleeping well. The kidney secretions also caused me annoyance, being irregular and painful in passage. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I procured a box from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store and they did me more good than anything I had ever taken. The backache ceased, the kidney secretions became regular in passage and I could go to bed and obtain a full night's rest."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.

What He Remembered.

"An' ye fell from a window, Jerry? How far wuz it ye fell?"

"Tin stories."

"Well, well! That was a great fall. And what did you think of on your way down?"

"Begorry, I didn't think of nothin' until I passed th' fift' sthory. Thin I remembered I left me pipe on the window sill."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
